VISA - VERY IMPORTANT!

Normally most people enter Bali with an on-site 30 day visa, which is free of cost for over 140 countries. But in our case you need a special visa, which you need to apply for at the Indonesia Embassy in your country.

You will need to state the purpose of your travels (study) and need to present a sponsor letter, which Desa Seni will provide once you have registered and paid for the course.

If you have any questions please contact us as soon as possible. Visas can take up to 3 weeks to be processed, so we encourage you to begin applying around 2 months before the course begins.

The costs for these visas depend on the country you are applying from and the passport you hold, so you will need to inquire with the local Indonesian Embassy about the costs in your country.

You will need a valid passport with at least 6 months before it expires.

ATTENTION: Once you've registered and made your payment you must request Desa Seni a letter of sponsorship to apply for your visa.

Beware of non-KRI certified Kundalini Yoga teacher trainings!

Be aware during your search for Kundalini Yoga teacher trainings in Bali about who your trainers are, their qualifications and legitimacy, and what institution you will be certified by once you graduate. Too many students have been misinformed and have had to re-take their training with legitimate teachers once they discovered they were not properly trained or certified after completing their training.

KRI (Kundalini Research Institute) is the official international training organization that promotes the teachings of Yogi Bhajan and oversees teacher training programs in 52 countries, graduating over 3000 new Kundalini Yoga teachers annually. The Level One KRI Aquarian Teacher Training Program consists of a 220 hour program (180 hours in class; 40 home practice). Graduates of Level One earn the title of KRI Certified Instructor of Kundalini Yoga as taught by Yogi Bhajan®, are registered with the International Kundalini Yoga Teachers Association (IKYTA) and fulfill the Yoga Alliance RYT (Registered Yoga Teacher) 200-hour requirement. The primary regulatory body for Kundalini Yoga teachers is IKYTA, not Yoga Alliance.
